

Nephron Function

H<sub>2</sub>O is reabsorbed into surrounding capillaries because of the NaCl that is actively forced out.

The nephron is a key adaptation of mammals so that they can live on land → mammals can excrete their waste with minimal H<sub>2</sub>O loss!!

